Facilitator(s): Mr. Ben Walden

Ben Walden is an international speaker and workshop leader in the realm of education. He has been a main keynote speaker at many conferences in Europe, Asia, the Americas and Australia. He also works with many individual schools, looking at themes of leadership and inspiring communication with both staff and , especially, students. In the 1990's he played several leading roles in London's West End theatre and as a member of the inaugural company at the new Shakespeare's Globe. He has also spoken on leadership and the arts at many business conferences, including at both Harvard and Columbia Business Schools.

Objectives:

Contents: This 4-hour programme, presented by international speaker and education consultant Ben Walden, will look at how we help students to overcome the challenges of speaking in front of larger groups. Key areas of focus will include...

The physical themes of eye contact, tone and volume of voice and grounded presence when delivering a talk
Using engaging content with emotional resonance and authenticity
Managing the "inner critics" that block our best potential
Articulating a clear vision of a project's goals and intentions
Helping the experience become a pleasure that students want to do more often

Ben has spent 20 years working with everyone from corporate CEOs to students struggling at school with these themes and will be sharing his advice from this in a way that can be relevant for every teacher.
